Allinial Global Welcomes Jessica Cormier as Regional Director, North America

ATLANTA, GEORGIA April 9, 2021 — Allinial Global is pleased to announce that Jessica Cormier has been named Regional Director, North America.

Jessica brings a strong technical skill set to her new role, as well as extensive leadership skills. A 2014 graduate of the AICPA Leadership Academy, she has served on numerous AICPA committees and task forces and was also awarded the 2017 Women to Watch Emerging Leader Award by the Louisiana Society of CPAs.

Before her most recent role as director of finance for the Louisiana High School Athletic Association, Jessica served as a fraud, forensic, and litigation services manager at Horne LLP. At Horne, she led fraud investigations and assisted in litigation support engagements, including fraud detection and prevention in various financial transactions, lost-profit calculations, economic analysis, bankruptcy matters, and financial motive in arson cases.

As Regional Director for North America, Jessica will address the needs of all North American member firms, complementing the support already provided by dedicated regional directors for Canada and Latin America.

“We are thrilled to welcome Jessica to the Allinial Global team and confident that her technical expertise, leadership, and dedication to advancing the accounting profession will make her immensely valuable to our North American member firms and the association as a whole.”
